INTERESTING RELIC.

An Ancient Masonic Apron, First Worn by the Late S. B. Nicholson in Old the Masonic brotherhood of Maysville is now on exhibition in the show windows of Morrison & Kackley's book store. It is a Masonic apron that is more than sixty years of age, and was once the property of the late Sir Knight Strother B. Nicholson, of this city. At his death on the 16th of February, 1882, it was given to Mason Lodge, No. 342, of which he was a life member, and will be preserved as one of its most valuable relics. It is made of white satin, the various emblems having been painted by hand or executed in delicate needle work, and is something of a work of art. The following resolutions adopted by Mason Lodge, at the points in his Masonic history and show the estimation in which he was held as a member of the order:

Sometuing over a hundred horses have been shipped by river this week to Cincinnati and the Eastern markets.

The Bostona goes down now every Sunday at 9 a.m., in place of the Ohio which has been chartered by the Memphis Packet Company.

Mrs. Otho Davis, who has been a reader of the Bulletin for twenty years, has preserved complete files of the paper, beginning with the first number.

A passenger coach on the Chattaroi road, at Ashland, was burned by an incendiary on Tuesday. This seems to be seen shipped by river this week to Cincinnati and the Eastern markets.

Member of the order:

Your committee who were appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of this Commandery, on the death of Sir Knight S. B. Nicholson, beg leave respectfully to rereport that they find our venerable brother began his Masonic life in 1823, having been initiated that year in Old Maysville Lodge No. 25, from that date until his death he was a zealous and true Mason, that in 1865 shortly after our Commandery was instituted, he became a "Knight sentinel until old age forced him to reliaquish his post. Though an humble and unobtrasive man, he was for fifty years thoroughly identified with the Masonic history of Kentucky, and was well and tavorably known throughout the State as a Mason distinguished for his zeal. In recognition of the fact he was appointed, at the unanimous request of his brethren (without his knowledge.) Grand Pursuivant of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, which he held for two successive terms. We recommend the adoption of the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, Death has again visited our ranks and removed from us our venerable Sir Knight S. B. Nicholson, therefore per this commandery, on the death he was a faithful central that year in Old Maysville Lodge No. 25, from that date until his death he was a faithful sentinel until old age forced him to reliaquish his post.
